Advanced Standing Opportunity
Nanjing University

Students admitted into the 2-year Master of Architecture at the University of Melbourne have an extraordinary opportunity to complete two degrees through an advanced standing arrangement with Nanjing University.

Master of Architecture, University of Melbourne / Master of Science (Architecture and Urbanism), University of Nanjing

Eligible students who enrol in the program will receive 100 points of credit for one year completed at Nanjing University and satisfy the requirements for both degrees within two years.

PROGRAM BENEFITS

- Offers a competitive advantage
  Complete two separate degrees and receive two qualifications from two world-class institutions.

- Academic expertise and professional learning
  Study with academics who are experts in their field of study and develop a cross-cultural understanding of the teaching and learning expectations.

- A unique international learning experience
  Build relationships with colleagues across two programs and create wider personal and professional networks, and global connections.

ELIGIBILITY

- Admission/Enrolment in the 2 year Master of Architecture at the university of Melbourne
- Have room in your degree to complete the 1 year of study (semesters 2 and 3) at Nanjing University
- Must not hold Chinese citizenship

Please note that although this program will be taught in English, a basic understanding of Mandarin is strongly encouraged.

FEES

Eligible student’s pay their tuition fee to Nanjing University of RMB 27,500 (approx AUD$4,700, subject to change) for 1 year of study completed there. This can mean a huge saving for most students paying local or international fees in their current degree.

Timely applications close Friday 30th May.
